Children

Welcome to the Children's Meeting Place!

The Mother Tree

The children present the Mother Tree to their Guest of Honour, the Swedish Minister of Environment Annika Strandhäll. The Mother Tree is a big, beautiful acacia tree at the centre of the Children's Meeting Place where children and leaders meet and speak of the worries, dreams and hopes of children.

A tour of the Children's Meeting Place

Children guide the Minister Annika Strandhäll to the children's exhibitions at the Children's Meeting Place and return to the Mother Tree.

The Peace Stone of Dag Hammarskjöld

A stone from the Peace Circle at the home of the second UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld will be handed over to Ms. Annika Strandhäll. The Peace Stone will be placed next to the Mother Tree together with children.

LET US JOIN!

Children roll out their message of the Children's Meeting Place: LET US JOIN!

Thank you for coming!

Children hand over a gift to the Minister Annika Strandhäll.

Closing of the Peace Stone Ceremony

Minister Annika Strandhäll thank the children.

The development of the Children's Meeting Place starts with the reinstallation of the Storytelling place – the 7 Stones Fireplace, directly after the Peace Stone Ceremony.
